GOOD'S

Summer notes

Good's

'The right way to look at things'. In this sentence there is all the philosophy of Good's, the new brand of eyewear, born in Naples and handcrafted in Italy, that presents its first collection. A tribute to architecture, tracing its balance in shapes and materials, here it is "A Collection": 7 models of glasses, in six different color options and in ecofriendly material, all inspired to the architecture of Naples.

Neubau

This summer the Austrian label is embracing popular styles like cat-eye and aviator and presenting them in the sustainable synthetic material naturalPX, high-quality stainless steel and with 3D embellishments made using resource-efficient 3D printing technology. neubau eyewear combines the highest quality standards and innovative design with environmental awareness.

Face à Face

This season Chief Creative Officer Pascal Jaulent and his team explore the alchemy between neon, transparent iridescent colors. For the new collection they worked with precious materials crafted with prismatic reflections and bright resonances. Lines used as graphic elements give an unexpected twist to frames like Bocca Lemon and Tadao, while with new concepts such as Yayoi and Bahia, deconstruction is always at play.

Essedue

The SS20 Collection of Essedue shows comfortable and light solutions for the silhouettes. The Italian brand uses 3D processing on cellulose acetate and gives a new twist to the classic glasses shapes. Different color options are available, from unexpected fluo combinations to classic tones and nuances. The cosmetic lenses mounted on the Essedue frames allow use in every situation, both indoor and outdoor.
